"Can God Use Me?"

This is a question that we have all perhaps at times asked. Can God take me, with all my weaknesses and imperfections and use me in His service? Yes, He can! We can see that throughout time God has taken those who were seemingly unqualified and ill-prepared and used them to His Glory.

In Exodus 4, we see the account of God calling His servant Moses. This man would have to go into Egypt, confront Pharaoh, and lead God's people to the promised land. You would expect this person to be well qualified for the task: a proven leader, or maybe a great warrior. Yet we see instead an orphan, a shepherd, a fugitive from justice who had fled when threatened by Pharaoh. Even Moses himself tried to dissuade God from using him, pleading to find someone else. However, God took Moses and made him into the great leader of the Israelite nation. David, but a boy and mocked by his brothers and the king, challenged and defeated the giant Goliath.

In the New Testament, perhaps most vividly in the person of Peter, we see God's ability to take the seemingly unusable and use them. Peter was an uneducated fisherman. He was often scolded by Jesus, sank because of a lack of faith, fell asleep in the garden and even denied Jesus with an oath. And yet, despite all that, it was Peter who stood before the crown on Pentecost and preached the first Gospel sermon. And it was Peter who was to first take the Gospel to the Gentiles.

Paul in 1 Timothy 1:13-17, says that even though he was a blasphemer, a persecutor of the church and the chief of sinners, through God's grace he was made a useful tool in God's hand. If God can use a fugitive, a boy, a denier of Christ and a persecutor of the church, He can surely use you and me. If we will allow God's grace and strength to help and guide us, He will use us to His glory and service.

SERMONETTE:

“And we urge you, brothers, warn those who are idle, encourage the timid, help the weak, be patient with everyone, Make sure that nobody pays back wrong for wrong, but always try to be kind to each other and to everyone else. Be joyful always; pray continually; give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God’s will for you in Christ Jesus. Do not put out the Spirit’s fire; do not treat prophecies with contempt. Test everything. Hold on to the good. Avoid every kind of evil. May God himself, the God of peace, sanctify you through and through. May your whole spirit, soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. The one who calls you is faithful and he will do it.”
